

Trauma Informed Care Community of Practice

2nd Wednesday of each month from 9-10am - via teleconference
Ongoing discussion and access to resource repository

A group of individuals interested in the principles, tools and best practices for trauma-informed care. It's meant to create a common understanding of the role of trauma in the lives and histories of the clients, patients, and communities we serve, as well as in our own lives.

The CoP facilitates knowledge exchange, resource sharing and capacity building in trauma-informed care among health-care practitioners working in a variety of clinical and community environments. It creates opportunities for collaboration and consultation on cases, client interventions, training opportunities, projects, and initiatives regarding trauma across the province.
